VICTIMS OF A FIRE.

Bodies of Two Men Found in the Ruins of a Burned Building.
NEW YORK, Nov. 28.—Fireman John Halpin today discovered the bodies of two men in the ruins of the fire which occurred at the Old Volks Building, on the Bowery. They were found at the extreme back end of what was the stage of the theater. They were partly covered by charred wood and other debris. One of the bodies was in a sitting posture and the other was discovered in a reclining position. The head of the body of the individual found in a sitting posture was plainly visible from every part of the ruins and it appeared surprising to those who saw it that it was not found before. Neither body has been identified.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 28.—The University of Pennsylvania football eleven this afternoon defeated the Cornell team by the score of 46 to 2, thus winning up the football season with a clean record of victories to her credit.

Two touchdowns and a goal were scored by the Pennsylvanians in the first half, and two touchdowns and a goal in the second half was the record of the red and white.

Cornell had to satisfy herself with a safety. Strategic play, scientific punts and brilliant all-around interference were the features of Pennsylvania's game. Cornell's defeat can be summed up in very few words—weak defense and still weaker interference.

Cornell's full back, Ritchie, was lamentably weak, and an exchange of kicks between him and Brooke was always good for from ten to twenty yards gain for the Pennsylvania team.

There were individual players on the Cornell team who covered themselves with glory. Beacham, at left half back, Fitch, at left tackle, and Sweetland, at right tackle, played brilliantly, and also Captain Wyckoff, considering his condition. Pennsylvania made her gains at almost any point which the team would strike.

Brooke made one forty-five yard run and also a seventy-five yard run, but in the latter the ball was brought back and given to Cornell for holding. Minds also carried the ball for twenty-five yards through the entire team, before being caught from behind by Taussig. Farrar, at right tackle, played his best game of the season. Woodruff, Minds, Gelbert, Williams and Brooke also played brilliantly.

The game was a perfect pandemonium of yells. One of the Michigan's mascots was a diminutive donkey, gaily decorated with the college colors and led by an equally small dandy, also dressed in the college colors.

The field was in better condition than was expected. It had been carefully scraped and wagon loads of sawdust had been scattered over the thin layer of ice, till it looked like the floor of a mammoth butcher shop, which, to benighted mortals who deem the game of football a necessary evil, was a most agreeable sight.

Michigan team was rather late in coming on the field, not putting in an appearance until 11:17 a. m.

The game was played as follows: Michigan kicked off, taking the north goal. Chicago fumbled, but recovered, and made five yards through the center. Ewing was hurt. Hall taking his place, Nichols then, by a pretty run, carried the ball around the right end for twenty-five yards before tackled by Cornell. Nichols, who kicked, which he did to the Michigan's twenty-five yard line. Bloomington, with fine interference, ran back twenty-five yards before being tackled. Hollister, on a criss-cross, took the ball thirty-five yards. Bloomington was hurt, but recovered. Hall on Chicago's forty-five yard line and there Brooke kicked his second goal from the field. Before Pennsylvania was able to score the game was over. The teams lined up as below:

Position. Cornell. Penn.

Powers Not Yet Granted Permission to Send Gunboats Through the Straits—Stories of Outrages.

LONDON, Nov. 28.—The Constantinian correspondent of the Daily News telegraphs to his paper that the embassies there have learned that in the massacre at Marash on Nov. 18, one thousand persons were killed.

The Christian quarters of the town were burned from three points. A letter received here describing previous massacres says that before it commenced the town order ordered the Christian shops to be opened under penalty for refusal. It was then that the pillage and murder began. The writer of this letter, who had been a great Marashite, adds that there was no sign of either a rising or of a resistance on the part of the Christians. The Daily News's correspondent in Constantinople also says that the embassies hear from their consuls that all possibility of rendering assistance to the Sassonites who were the victims of the outrage at that point has been ended, and that the Kurds are still continuing their depredations, stripping them out of existence and destroying all the buildings which have been erected by the expenditure of the English relief fund. A similar story comes from the Van country, where the disturbances continue as badly as ever.

A Vienna dispatch to the Daily Telegraph says that the proposed naval demonstration by the powers against Turkey is now regarded as futile as a restraining influence. The latest news received from the interior of Turkey has a depressing influence on the diplomatic circle. Reports have been received that renewed attempts to massacre the surviving Armenians in Erzerum have resulted in sheer despair, as advising their flocks to save their lives by embracing Islam.

A dispatch to the Daily News from Beirut confirms the reports of the grave state of affairs existing in Syria and Palestine, and the repeated danger to the Armenians. The mission has been placed by the riotous demonstrations of the Mussulmans. The dispatch adds that the whole of Syria and Palestine are flooded with Turkish soldiers, and states that in the country between Jaffa and Jerusalem there are 9,000 troops, all raised in the last few weeks. The Daily News's correspondent adds that the troops arriving here bear the significant green flag of the Prophet instead of the Turkish flag. Jerusalem is crowded with soldiers, and troops are being stationed in the tower of David, Pilate's palace and in the vicinity of the Damascus gate. The ostensible purpose of the troops is to subdue the Druses.

"THE FIEND."

Returned Missionaries Tell of Atrocities Committed by Tahir Pasha.

BUFFALO, N. Y., Nov. 28.—Misses Charlotte E. Ely and Mary A. C. Ely have just returned home after a long period of mission work in the East. Turkey under the direction of the Foreign Board of Commissioners for Foreign Missions. Their mission has covered a space of twenty-seven years, and so soon as affairs in the disturbed districts have quieted down they will return to Turkey. The Misses Ely were stationed at Bitlis, about fifty-five miles from Mosul, where the most horrible of the atrocities occurred. At Bitlis there was no wholesale massacre, but many prominent Armenian merchants were thrown into prison on false accusations, and some less illustrious victims never saw the light of day again after they had once entered the prison walls; they were secretly made away with. The wall, or provincial Governor of Bitlis, at that time was Tahir Pasha, who was known to the missionaries as "The Fiend." He was the man who threatened that he would sow the place where the city of Bitlis once was with grain. According to the Misses Ely the Armenians were imprisoned because they would not sign a paper saying that the English consul and the American missionaries had incited the Armenians to rebel.

Speaking of the recent massacre, a large part of which occurred near Mosul, Miss Mary Ely said: "The massacre was undoubtedly planned by the Porte. The immediate provocation came about as follows: The Kurds were in the habit of raiding the flocks of the Armenians. The Armenians, impoverished by repeated acts of robbery, banded together for the purpose of recovering their flocks from the Kurds. When the two parties met of course there was fighting. Two Moslems were killed and several Armenians were wounded. The Armenians, believing that the Kurds were the cause of their loss, decided to retaliate. They were met by the officers that some of the better ones among the common soldiers begged that they be not compelled to carry them out. Others actually refused to execute such barbarous commands, and were told that if they did not obey orders they would be shot to pieces from the cannon's mouth. Some of the good soldiers, however, respected the lives of the Armenians, and in fields of grain and among the rocks in the mountains.

The returned missionaries say that it was hard to pick special instances out of such a mass of cruelty, but mentioned the following: The soldiers would toss children up into the air and catch them on their hands when they came down. At such times they would stand a number of children

Adelbert and State of Pennsylvania. Quit with a Tie Score of 8 to 8.

CLEVELAND, O., Nov. 28.—Clear skies and a cold, crisp air combined to make this an ideal football day. The opposing teams were the Pennsylvania State College and Adelbert eleven. The grounds were in perfect condition. Long before it was time for the game to begin an immense crowd had gathered to witness the contest. The members of both eleven were in excellent playing condition, and both teams had been doing hard practice work for several weeks past. The teams lined up as follows:
